This home exudes character and combines classic design with modern amenities, making it a unique and comfortable space for anyone looking for a distinctive lifestyle. The various living spaces both indoors and outdoors suggest a versatile layout that can accommodate different preferences and needs. Some standout features, such as the two-storey entry foyer, the spacious entertainer's kitchen with granite benchtops, and the expansive undercover outdoor area with plantation shutters, really paint a picture of luxury and functionality. The inclusion of a home office with built-in Tasmanian oak storage is a great touch for those who work remotely or need a dedicated workspace. Additionally, the Master Suite with mirrored robes and a large ensuite, including a spa bath and double vanity, adds a luxurious touch to the home. The practical aspects, like well-sized bedrooms with built-in robes, a double lockup garage with drive-through access to the backyard, and additional paved space for parking a boat or van, seem to cater to convenience and practicality. The mention of the property being well-positioned in a desirable suburb adds to its appeal, as location often plays a significant role in real estate. Overall, this is a wonderful and well-equipped home that caters to both modern living and classic elegance.
