Set along a picturesque, tree-lined street, this captivating period residence exudes a sense of timeless charm. Its presence, nestled within a tranquil residential neighbourhood, offers a serene escape from the hustle of everyday life. The exterior, a harmonious blend of period architecture and lush natural surroundings, invites one into a space where classic style and modern design intersect. Renovated and extended the central hall flows to three double bedrooms, two stylish central bathrooms, one with a walk-in shower and one with a large corner bath and to the rear an impressive open plan area. Designed to capture the northern light, with highlight clerestory windows, and view the expansive garden this is the heartwarming centerpiece of the home making up an impressive entertainers' kitchen, dining and living area (gas log fireplace) with a wall of bifold doors transitioning to the deck and garden. Well-equipped the timber kitchen includes granite benchtops, quality appliances, and a walk-in pantry. Outside the garden offers a leafy retreat. Additional highlights include split system heating and cooling, custom built cabinetry, quality window furnishings and easy off-street parking within the front setback. In the heart of Northcote, it is close to Northcote Plaza, All Nations Park, High Street shops and eateries, trams, trains, schools (zoned to Northcote High School & Wales Street Primary School) and Northcote Aquatic Centre.
