Seriously folks, this IS a great piece of Tamborine Mountain, only a short stroll to the Main Street hub where the locals like to hang out at any one of the many quality eateries. Well over a quarter acre, (1133m²) of rich red volcanic soil and about as flat as you will find on the Mountain, and North facing onto rural residential properties. (Which, incidentally, cannot be seen from the road) Plus, the basic 2-bed 1-bath home would suit as a starter home or a temporary place to live while you plan and build a new home at the rear of the land, down near the patch of rainforest. Or the home could be relocated elsewhere? Another option, and with a bit of TLC and renovation, it would make a very comfy weekender, for you and the family, or as a holiday rental. So many choices! And did I mention the garage, a large chook run and woodshed tucked away at the back of the lot? Or the delightfully shaded outdoor entertainment area? Plus, fully fenced to keep your dogs, and kids in! We have priced this property to sell quickly as the owners already have a contract on another home more suitable to their growing young family.
