Destined to capture the imagination of buyers longing for a picturesque, private and quiet country lifestyle escape, this outstanding property offers a special sanctuary on Albany's outskirts. Embrace the stunning and colourful parkland garden environment, or take a stroll through your very own natural woodlands. Both are home to an amazing array of birdlife from blue wrens to barn owls. If you can tear yourself away from your haven, there are wonderful waterways and key shopping areas within easy reach. The owner's passion for the property is reflected in its presentation. Aside from the lovely and light homestead, there are spacious verandahs and a superb patio, where you can sit and enjoy the surrounds. There is also a workshop, double garage, chicken coop and wood shed. Water sources won't be a worry, as the property is on scheme and includes one main and two house water tanks, so you can tend the gardens with ease and enjoy a nice cup of tea. Virtually every room in the home has a scenic outlook. Enjoy the comfort and space of the delightful open living and dining area and well-appointed kitchen. There is ample kitchen storage and bench space, and stainless-steel appliances. Totally private at one end of the home is a study, nursery or fifth bedroom next to the spacious master, which has a walk-in robe and ensuite. At the opposite end are three more spacious bedrooms, all with great robes, and roomy hall storage and well-presented wet areas. Ready to live the dream? Call now.
