Compass Crescent is a great street to live in, a very short walk to a selection of excellent cafes and restaurants, supermarket, pharmacy and medical facilities, and with the hills of the National Park as a backdrop, yet just two blocks from the beach. The front garden provides a nice privacy screen, not that there's much traffic in the street, and a wide covered verandah runs right across the front of the house. A double/triple length carport provides a range of options - you could even easily add a fourth bedroom (STCA) as there's a door off the living area and still have room for a car undercover. The inground pool in the back garden is perfect for cooling off in summer, and there's a small garden shed too. The open-plan living/dining area opens front and back to covered verandahs so you can relax in the sun or shade at any time of day. Tiled throughout, the home is cool and comfortable, with air con to the living area and master bedroom. All three bedrooms feature built-in wardrobes and are located together down the hallway along with the bathroom, separate toilet and internal laundry.
