This classic old Queenslander has all of the beautiful period features that endeared so many people to this style of home. Think Ornate Maple fretwork room dividers, Coloured glass casement windows all around, soaring ceiling heights with v-board walls and solid timber floors. You have all of that here. But you also have a renovated kitchen with stone benchtops crazy glass splashback and modern stainless steel appliances. The block is elevated and consists of just over 1/4 acre or 1012 sqm. There is parking underneath along with room for a workshop and lockable storage. Well away from any flood risk in a nice street in East Innisfail. A pathway leads up to the wide front verandah from which you will enjoy long views over the North Johnstone River valley and also catch the cool breeze from the South. Once inside you have two separate living rooms and two very large bedrooms. The living room flows through to the wide undercover back porch. Both the front and back verandahs are very private due to the nature of the established gardens. The bathroom is not original but it is also not new. It is however fully servicable. This house could use a coat of paint on its mini-orb cladding but certainly has the bones, character, and original features to make it something truly lovely. Contact Michael Skuse
