Occupying a sunny north-easterly orientation within a superbly landscaped corner position, single level family versatility provides a peaceful sanctuary in the quiet, leafy streetscapes of Surrey Hills, walking distance from cafes, buses, parks, Chatham and Canterbury station and Union Road shops, supermarkets and wine bars. True its c1910 heritage, superbly maintained Edwardian charm blends timeless appeal with an architectural renovation underscored by stylish dark timber floors. Soaring ceiling heights create an airy sense of space, letting in a wealth of natural light throughout an open plan living room and kitchen zone, featuring a wood burning fireplace, endless storage and stainless steel appliances. An adjacent dining room with an in-built window seat opens out to alfresco entertaining within sprawling lush gardens and a wrap around courtyard with outdoor fireplace. Accommodation comprises four generous bedrooms, three with built in robes and one featuring an original open fireplace, serviced by a spacious central bathroom with marble accents and a freestanding bath. Additional features include a powder room, spacious laundry, hydronic heating, central air conditioning and off street parking for two cars. Moments from Canterbury Primary School, Siena College, Strathcona Girls' Grammar School, Camberwell High School and Canterbury Girls' Secondary College.
