Look no further than 25 Lynne Court in Highfields! You won't come across a half-acre block of land like this very often, especially with its close proximity to the planned new town centre. For anyone looking to build their forever dream home, this block of land offers all the modern conveniences - town water, mains power, street lighting, and walking paths. Additionally, the block has a raised frontage on two streets and 2,500 square meters of space, allowing for ample opportunity to design your perfect living area. Families will find this prime land conveniently located near parks, schools, and community facilities, making it an ideal choice. Highfields is known for its well-developed walking paths and cycleways, allowing residents to easily enjoy its many parklands, nature walks, and open spaces. Picture yourself unwinding on your spacious back deck, sipping on your favourite cold beverage, and admiring the breathtaking sunsets. Imagine the elaborate man cave, a masterful hideaway cleverly concealed as an ordinary steel shed, keeping watch over your beautifully designed swimming pool, and the effortlessly maintained trees and gardens that encircle it. This blank canvas also provides numerous development options, such as commercial, office, or medical uses (STCA), for astute investors, builders, or developers. This is a rare opportunity to secure a unique piece of land in one of the most sought-after areas of Highfields. Don't miss out on this chance to create your dream home or investment property.
