This spacious, circa 1925-character home offers four bedrooms over two levels with bathrooms and separate living areas on each. A host of original period features are contained within this home's walls including original period fire surrounds, a combustion stove, exotic timber skirtings and windows, three panel doors, intricate lead light adorned front entrance, period quality staircase and iron claw foot bath. This quality home has recently received a new Colorbond roof, quality kitchen and wiring upgrades and so much more. Each level leads to a sunny veranda with the upper-level hosting close up city, Derwent Estuary and diverse Eastern plus Western shore panorama. The gardens are flourishing with a wonderful mix of colour, style, fruit and vegetables. This fabulous West Hobart location is so close to Hobart's CBD, accessed via Forest Road and mainly utilised by residents. If one desires to live close to and enjoy the benefits and convenience of city fringe living, without the noise and bustle, this property will be very hard to dismiss.
