Nestled amongst the treetops of Burleigh Hill, there's a beautiful simplicity to this extensively renovated 712m² entertainer. Elevated to capture bushland and waterway views on a supersized 1,075m² block, it's fresh, modern and infused with soul. Brought to life by highly awarded architect Joe Snell (as seen on Channel 7's House Rules), it pairs premium finishes with a clean line aesthetic and abundant natural light. Sunshine illuminates the open plan kitchen, living and dining zone, with this expansive social hub designed to invite the outdoors in. This continues across the five bedrooms (including two master suites), with picture windows framing lush and leafy views. Each also boasts contemporary ensuites with imported Roca tapware, plus take advantage of a study/6th bedroom and 6th bathroom. Outdoors, restore your senses with a session in the ice bath, sauna or the magnesium pool and spa that hovers above the tree-lined escarpment. Decking wraps around the alfresco areas to offer multiple places to relax or host guests, before stepping down to embrace the firepit.
