Previously the old Poowong Scout Hall, this property has so much potential! The current owners have had the home re-stumped and it is ready to be transformed into your new home. There's definitely some work to be done, but get in and get your hands dirty and this could be something very cool. With a large open entry room, with stunning timber floors and pitched roof, this room could be transformed into something very special. An adjoining kitchen is huge and big enough to be transformed into a bathroom and kitchen space, if you wish to make the property residential. With beautiful rear views of the surrounding Poowong hills, there is so much opportunity here - transform it into a quiet home, or a quirky airbnb (STCA) or let your imagination run wild and the sky is the limit.
