The Quintessential Fitzroy Situated in the storied history of Fitzroy, a suburb known across the land, the pulse of Melbourne's culture, a melting pot of peoples, traditions, food, ideas and art. This single front Victorian with remnants of its history is at the southern end, the original end of Newtown, a 'penny toss' from the city with two genuine front bedrooms, side passage to a cosy living with adjoining kitchen and the traditional bath and laundry to the rear. A delightful, paved courtyard with car access from the side and rear laneway not only makes for great entertaining but vital for undertaking future improvements. Ready to move straight in then ponder what you can achieve in this coveted pocket of Fitzroy with the iconic Standard Hotel, your extended living room at the end of the block or the many cafes, diners, dives and some rated restaurants on the doorstep. Living here is a delight for the senses and sound real estate investment territory.
