Set on the high-side of the street on a no-through road, this one-of-a-kind home in Highworth presents modern living, space, views and breezes with the option of dual and/or separate living. The hexagon style and shape of the home offers plenty of space for the family to live, work and play. On the first floor, you'll find three spacious and bright bedrooms, plenty of living and dining space, a large kitchen and contemporary bathrooms which are brand new! There are adjoining decks to take in the views, and they provide a fantastic spot for entertaining or unwinding. There is also access to the second floor which contains an attic area, which the savvy person could turn into a bedroom or study. On the ground floor, the foyer joins to the additional multipurpose room which was previously a workshop, but could be converted into an office, teenage retreat or additional living with a bathroom adjoining. There's also downstairs alfresco entertaining. The yard is easy-care, and there is a carport where two cars can fit in tandem. Additionally, there's 6.6kW of solar, and rainwater tank for gardening; all of this on a 914m² block!
