Intelligent design is manifest in this ground-floor apartment of style and substance in the highly acclaimed Darlington Brickworks. Designed by Christian Glyde of Glyde Bautovich Architects and crafted to reflect the heritage character of its streetscape, the boutique collection of terrace-style homes brings a fresh vision of urban style. Set just 450 metres from Redfern Station's CBD rail link. Solid foundations with an industrial edge are exposed with eye-catching textures, topped with polished parquet flooring and stylish stone benchtops. This apartment achieves work/life balance by offering an entertainers' kitchen with a marvelous hand-crafted aesthetic, and bi-fold doors for effortless outdoor integration. The bedroom is complimented by a spacious study enclave, while the bathroom continues the degree of detail with an exceptional finish. A colourful lifestyle awaits, with Sydney Uni, South Eveleigh arts precinct and Redfern's dynamic restaurant hub all set within easy walking distance from your gate.- Security gate offers direct access from the street into your front courtyard- Stylish aesthetic with concrete ceiling in contrast with herringbone flooring- Marble benchtops plus brass edges and details in kitchen and bathroom- Kitchen features Miele appliances and generous storage with deep drawers- Bedroom features built-in wardrobe, study enclave includes a sliding door- Phoenix tapware, block out blinds for privacy, glass louvres maximise airflow - On the doorstep to Sydney Uni, cafe temptations en route to Redfern Station
