Charming Original Home Set On A Massive Block

This 1960's home is positively brimming with potential. Set on a huge 1398sqm (approx) block nestled amongst nature, it offers great bones for a modern makeover or build your dream home on near flat land (STCC).

The versatile floor plan offers generous proportions and huge windows to let the natural light flood in. Inside are some delightful treasures for lovers of mid-century design, including original light fittings, a stone mantle in the living room and bi-fold timber doors with amber glazing.

With two living areas, a combined kitchen and dining room, plus a peaceful backyard, there is plenty of space for family living and entertaining.

At the front of the house, the living room is awash with natural light from the big windows overlooking the leafy front garden and street beyond. Bi-fold doors open onto the family room, creating a huge living space, or you can shut the teenagers away in their own retreat!

The eat-in kitchen is ripe for renovation! A renovator with a savvy eye for design will transform this into a gourmet kitchen and breakfast room in no time. Add some sliding doors and a pergola for your dream outdoor entertaining space, and you'll be ready for guests.

There are three spacious and light-filled bedrooms on offer here, and the master bedroom has a private updated ensuite.

Out the back, there is a tranquil garden. It's the perfect place to unwind under the shade of the trees, listening to the birds with a drink in hand. There is also a large shed with a concrete floor and three-phase power for the tradie or DIY enthusiast.

This hidden gem is tucked away just a hop, skip and jump from Belair National Park. Take a morning stroll with the kangaroos and koalas before stopping by Joan's Pantry for one of their legendary breakfasts. There are several quality schools to choose from, easy access to public transport, and Blackwood Village is within walking distance. You will wonder how you ever lived anywhere else.
