Luxuriating in abundant sunshine and warmth across its two welcoming levels, this beautifully reimagined bungalow offers space, comfort and style in one timelessly appealing family package. Crowned by soaring ceilings with glossy Baltic pine floors underfoot, the home's heritage is immediately evident while modern touches such as its open spaces and stylish plantation shutters are among the many contemporary creature comforts. With a flexible floor plan that can be easily adapted to suit individual needs, accommodation includes an inviting lounge with gas fireplace, a separate dining room, a first-floor master domain plus up to three ground-floor bedrooms - or two and an additional living area or home office. A freestanding stainless steel oven can be found in the bright well-equipped kitchen while two downstairs bathrooms will please growing families. A third bathroom can be found in the upstairs master retreat, which is tucked away in a private zone of its own. An easy-care yet private garden setting will be welcomed by busy families seeking a low maintenance proposition - wrapping up a truly beautiful family home are hydronic heating, split systems, ample storage, a XXkw solar array and auto garage behind remote controlled gates. Close enough to Hampton Street's attractions that you can leave the car at home, this prized blue-ribbon address is within moments of Hampton Primary School, elite private schools including Haileybury and St Leonard's colleges, public transport, parks and the beach. For more information about this beautifully reimagined bungalow contact Christian Hegarty or Misty White at Buxton Sandringham.
