As you step inside Harri, you'll be greeted by a sanctuary of openness that defines this home. Its open-plan design not only welcomes natural light but also creates a sense of flow and connectedness throughout the kitchen and family space. Harri offers abundant privacy and room, presenting a versatile canvas that seamlessly adapts to various life stages. Located at the rear of the home, the master suite grants you your own access to the outdoor living area to enjoy that morning sunshine. The master suite is complete with a generously sized walk-in robe and an ensuite, allowing you to indulge in self-care whenever you desire. So, take that step into Harri, where friends and family will find themselves making 'surprise drop-ins' more frequently. It's more than just a home; it's your sanctuary to let life in.
