If you are ready to step off the treadmill this block could be exactly what your soul has been searching for. Most developers knock down the trees. Not in Jubilee Heights. This rainforest estate allows you to build your dream home set in the middle of the rainforest, where the local Cassowaries are your nearest neighbours. This block is elevated on the high side of the street. Once built you will be able to fall asleep to the sounds of the rainforest and the noise of the bubbling stream as the water cascades over the rocks just metres from the boundary. On a balmy tropical day the creek water is very clear and very cold and the perfect place to cool off. The water comes straight out of the mountain and does not traverse through farm land. There is a swimming hole right beside the road. The frontage is nearly 50 metres, and the longest boundary is nearly 90 meters, so you have plenty of scope to place your house to achieve the utmost privacy and peace and quiet on the total 3163 sqm site. Just over  $\frac{3}{4}$ 's of an acre. This is not something you will ever find in the cities, and some would argue that the rainforest provides the Elixir of life. This block ranks as one of the best in the estate and is certainly priced to be sold. Your dream can start here. Contact Michael Skuse
