Possible Subdivision Potential In Colo Vale

Located in the heart of Colo Vale village is this prime level one acre, 4047m² block, with two street frontages .

Property is zoned R2 and has potential for subdivision into 1000m² blocks (STCA) all services available including town water, sewer, and natural gas.

Upon the land is an original cottage in good order as well as double colour bond garage.

Properties with this amount of potential are rare.
