If you've been searching for a beautiful character home with a stunning modern renovation, on a large block in the heart of one of the Barossa's best towns.....the wait is over. Welcome to 30 Schilling Street, Angaston. Built in circa 1890 and occupying a large 960m² allotment, this rare, historic, stone fronted home showcases three large bedrooms, two modern, renovated bathrooms (including a stunning en-suite to the master) and a large main living area complete with beautiful combustion heater. The original section of the home is blessed with beautiful floorboards, stunning fireplaces and high ceilings while the renovation has been thoughtfully designed and features two modern, on trend bathrooms, a stylish, spacious kitchen with ample bench space while the expansive living area incorporates a dining area and a generous lounge. A sunroom to the side of the house gives access to the house and could be utilised as a playroom, study or simply a wonderful area to relax and enjoy the light filled space. The large undercover outdoor entertainment area leads directly onto the generous lawned area, side access is available to the backyard via a large side gate ensuring the yard is fully fenced while a 4.5m x 3.5m shed ensures you have a secure space for all the tools and toys. All the features you'd expect from a home of this calibre are here including 12 foot ceilings, beautiful combustion heater, reverse cycle ducted air-conditioning, ceiling fans in all bedrooms and living areas & stunning ornate fireplaces. Highly sought after, tightly held and rarely offered, the opportunity to own an absolutely stunning character home in the heart of one of the Barossa's best towns is now here – don't miss this one!
