Only 1 other apartment in the GEM building can boast the same sensational floor-plan as this spectacular property. The individuality of these open-plan dimensions, where internal spaces of some 100m² are complemented by a full-width balcony measuring approximately 34m², ensures enjoyment of exceptional city and bay views. Visually captivating, vibrant in character due to Elenberg Fraser's architectural acumen, the design's living/dining area is accompanied by balcony access and a kitchen with a butler's pantry. Balcony aspects also add to the desirability of 2 double bedrooms, including a main bedroom with a beautifully appointed ensuite, while an equally seductive 2nd bathroom adds its own sense of allure. Heating/cooling, residents' gym, dual parking spaces and storage cages deliver additional appeal to an address that's adjacent to Point Gellibrand Park, around the corner from Nelson Place and walking distance from Williamstown station.
