Opportunities to purchase such a fine piece of real estate don't come along too often. With charming cottage gardens this home oozes street appeal amongst other quality established homes in a cul de sac location. 10ft ceilings and brush box flooring throughout compliment the formal and informal living areas and also the sizable bedrooms. Both bathrooms are typical of the era with quality tiling and features. Several rooms with French Doors open onto the return verandas that offer stunning rural views including the Oregon timber kitchen that will please any chef located off the family room with a gas log fireplace. The very private yard offers tranquil sitting areas along with housing the double garage with carport off the front. Definitely one for the discerning buyer that appreciates quality.
