This well presented and maintained home is looking for someone to continue to take fabulous care and fall in love with everything that it has to offer. Located in a well presented, quiet street, this house is surrounded by equally well cared for properties making it such a tightly held street and envious location. You will certainly feel very welcome from the moment you set foot on this property, a well thought out landscaped garden is a delight with synthetic grass and mature feature trees – a wide driveway with double garage with remote doors under the main roof also has internal access. The main bedroom has a large bay window that looks out to a stunning view of the hills and has a fitted out walk in robe and ensuite, lovely neutral carpet and ceiling fan finish this room off nicely. The other two bedrooms are spacious with the second having robes each side of the bedding area. A three way bathroom services this end of the house and a recently renovated laundry with access to the outside is spacious and well planned out. At the end of the house is the real entertaining hub of the home with a kitchen, dining and living area that has large windows and sliding doors allowing all the natural light to filter through – the kitchen has stainless steel appliances, gas cooking and a dishwasher – there is ample bench and cupboard space as well as a walk in pantry. Providing such a gorgeous outlook through all the windows to the immaculate landscaped gardens and pergola makes this such a relaxing and inviting area that really does have the feel of letting the outside in. The pergola is extensive with all weather roofing and zip track café blinds making it the perfect entertaining area all year round. The lawn is also synthetic with mature feature trees and ornamental shrubs making it such a tranquil oasis. Other features of this property include Ducted Evaporative air conditioning throughout, Gas heater with fire effect for those cosy winter nights in, second living area in the middle of the house, Instant temperature controlled gas hot water and easy care tiling throughout the living areas. A 3KW solar panel system is in place..a bonus to save on electricity costs. Not to mention being located near great schools, public transport and the Hallett Cove shopping centre. This property will also accept well behaved pets with references on application. Such a delightful property to present and it is available for a 12 month lease. RLA 236426
