“What the Owners say” After moving into the property nearly 6 years ago, we have absolutely loved living here. We have plenty of wonderful memories in the home and wish the next owners everything that we have enjoyed. We are moving into another property we own simply to better suit our needs over the next few years and felt it was a great opportunity for new owners to call this home. Please note that there is an electric stair lift at the property, that will be professionally removed if the next owners do not require it.
