Nestled amidst the natural splendour of Burnside's hillsides, 338 Nambour-Mapleton Road offers an elegant blend of contemporary style and serene outdoor living. The home's bright, expansive interiors have been recently refreshed with new paint and feature sustainable timber flooring, leading out to the newly installed decks that capture the property's exquisite views and natural rock features. At the home's core lies a beautifully renovated kitchen, boasting state-of-the-art appliances and ample space for culinary exploration, adjacent to generous dining and living areas. The living spaces extend effortlessly to the outdoors, where unsealed decking awaits customization and offers a scenic overlook of the property's private rockpools and waterfalls. Comfort is paramount in each bedroom, with the master suite enhanced by an ensuite bathroom, walk-in wardrobe, and a balcony that serves as a personal retreat. Practicality is also considered, with a block-built structure, a new Colorbond roof for longevity, an automatic roller door for the garage, and a septic system efficiently managed with monthly services. Environmental considerations are evident with a significant water storage capacity, a solar hot water system, and a grey water system for laundry, ensuring sustainability is woven into the fabric of the home.
