Beyond the white picket fence is a 1950s original, sitting pretty in a charming street with wide green verges full of trees and birdsong. The jarrah floors and picture windows are typical of the character of the garden suburb, with fresh white interiors creating a blank canvas to make it your own. This is a quiet neighbourhood, yet really handy to all kinds of shopping and services, and just minutes from Fremantle and the beach. A magnificent gum tree out front and purple native vines cascading over the fence lead to a generous front garden with plenty of room for the trampoline. The veranda sits above, and inside, a spacious lounge room with fireplace looks to the garden. The front bedroom, with built-in robes, shares that green outlook, and two more bedrooms have the original jarrah floors that flow throughout the home. The bathroom has been renewed, with bath and stone-topped vanity, and there's a separate toilet off the laundry. Solid timber benchtops and Smeg appliances feature in the neatly functional kitchen, leading to a sunroom making the most of the northern aspect, and a raised deck outdoors. Through the side gate there is space off the driveway to park a car or trailer, plus ample verge parking at the front. It all adds up to an opportunity to enjoy the character and liveability, plus the potential to add your own touches to this piece of classic Hilton.
