Nestled within Kilmore lies "Langdale", a resplendent early 20th-century residence built in approx. 1915. This family home, with its inscribed name at its entrance, tells the tale of its original owners, pioneers who journeyed from their farm near Goldie, establishing this beautiful residence. Upon entering, you're immediately struck by the grandeur of a wide hallway that stands as a testament to the property's rich history. The sophisticated lounge at the front sets the ambience for what lies ahead. Further inside, the contemporary kitchen emerges as the beating heart of the home. Heritage elements such as the traditional cooker amidst exposed original brickwork are harmoniously complemented by modern amenities. The beautiful Tasmanian oak floor, abundant storage, and thoughtfully designed spaces make it a home chef's dream. A unique underground cellar awaits your personal touch. Adjacent is a dining room keeping whoever is doing the cooking in the loop of the conversation. Leading from this hub is the family room, perfect for relaxation. The expansive main bedroom presents a luxurious retreat with a walk-in robe and chic ensuite. Three additional bedrooms, each with their unique charm, share an immaculately renovated central bathroom. Serenity is at the forefront of "Langdale's" offerings. From its elevated vantage point, one is treated to captivating views of meticulously maintained gardens, picturesque surroundings and spectacular sunsets adding magic to this residence. Whether it's the artistic stained glass, elegant arches, pressed metal ceilings, rejuvenated Baltic floorboards or the ornate fireplaces (some ornamental), each room sings a song of the bygone era. A notable highlight is the versatile upstairs space, perfect for contemplative moments or as a dedicated study. But the surprises don't end indoors. The property also features a recently constructed garage, spacious at 12m x 7.6m, complete with power and concrete flooring, meeting the needs of automotive enthusiasts and hobbyists alike. A leisurely stroll away are the Kilmore Race Course, Golf Course, and the tranquil trails of Monument Hill. With schools, verdant parks, bustling shops and transport, everything you need is within reach. Experience the perfect blend of history, luxury, and modern convenience at "Langdale", where every corner tells a story, and every sunset promises a new memory.
