Built with an elevation to capture the views of the glorious valley below, the magnificent craftsmanship of this home is to be applauded. Enriched by the vast use of stone and recycled timber, the two levels are complimented by such materials and exude a delightful warmth. The upper level is designed to appreciate the views of the rural landscape, it blends effortlessly with nature, featuring large picture windows, a wraparound veranda and a well-designed entertainer's deck. The tasteful and fully equipped kitchen is positioned to service both the alfresco and inside dining areas. Also, on this level is a comfortable sitting room where you can sit and pay homage to the most tremendous brick fireplace. With soaring high ceilings, feature windows and a combination of stone and timber walls, one could easily sit to admire the sheer volume of work that has been completed. Downstairs, there are two elegant bedrooms, the main bedroom offers a walk-in robe, while the consecutive has robe storage. Both bedrooms share a bathroom and a restful sitting room. The land holding of 8.016 ha (19.8 acres) offers a bit of everything, a few clear acres for a horse or two, with a bush back drop to immerse with nature. There is an excellent tradesman sized shed, loads of rainwater storage and a dam for garden use. This really is a tranquil part of the Northeast, only 17 km's from the Hume Hwy and 25 Km's from Benalla, it is easily accessible, yet you feel you have escaped to your own paradise.
