Unmistakably mid-century and undeniably unique in every sense of the word, this expansive multi-generational residence introduces two curated family domains positioned in one of Williamstown's finest streets. Enthusiasts of the modernist era will delight in the meticulous restoration of mid-century features lovingly restored and remaining with the home to the present day. The distinct residences offer premium independent living for extended family members, with a single-level home boasting plenty of natural light, bespoke interiors, a well-equipped kitchen, two spacious bedrooms and generous open plan living and dining leading out to a private courtyard. Positioned to the rear is the main residence offering multi-level living and family accommodations, including an extensive, north-facing ground floor family room and study with impressive timber-lined ceilings, expansive walls of glass and a seamless connection with the private, landscaped garden and alfresco entertaining zone. A state-of-the-art gourmet kitchen features bespoke cabinetry, stone benches and a sleek profile to complement the open-plan living and dining. A stunning family-sized bathroom complete with floor-to-ceiling tiles, oversized shower and deep soaker tub supports four robed bedrooms, with the modern comforts of hydronic heating, split system cooling, intercom and remote gate and garage access completing the picture. Nestled in a premier, tree-lined street only a short stroll from local schools, parks, Nelson Place and the bay, this remarkable residence offers an exciting bayside lifestyle proposition of unforgettable presence and inimitable style.
