Looking for a block to build your new home or investment? Look no further! This general residential zoned block was once the site of a family home and would be ideal for a new home, units, or the relocation of a dwelling (STCA). The block measures approx. 1040sqm in area and is well fenced. There is good frontage to Francis Street and the block is among other residential dwellings. All services are available to the block, providing an amazing opportunity that isn't going to stay on the market long, so call today.
