Located just one street back from the beach and boasting ocean views from upstairs, this quaint and quirky beach house oozes character and charm. With some imagination and a little bit of elbow grease, this home could become something wonderful. Properties in this location are tightly held, so this may be the opportunity of lifetime! - Four bedrooms, master has ensuite and private balcony offering ocean views- Timber floorboards throughout living area- Tandem lock up garage (two cars deep) - Generous timber entertaining deck leading from living area downstairs plus undercover front verandah- Established gardens with mature trees and plants- Approximately a 300m walk to the beach access, a 300m walk to the Wallabi Point Coastal Cafe and just 1.9km to the Salty Point surf break and Saltwater Lagoon/back beach. Wallabi Point is a small coastal village located on the fringe of the Saltwater National Park, which is on the wonderful Mid North Coast of NSW. It offers lovely bush walking and cycling trails, beautiful uncrowded swimming and surfing beaches, the Saltwater lagoon and is approximately 3-3.5 hours drive from Sydney, and just 15-20 mins drive to Taree.
