Please note this block is not flat and is situated towards the end of Dennis rd. There is a good section of flat land around the house, before it drops off. However, in saying that there is a brilliant flat section near the creek, where previous owners have had horses. If you're after useable acreage this is most likely not the property for you. If you're after a block you can escape and enjoy the Australian bush and wildlife than this is the one for you. Your very own bushland retreat awaits you, with a tastefully renovated home to match. This home is set amongst natural untouched bushland. Imagine sitting at the deck and all you can hear are the birds singing and all you can see are trees and the distance mountains.... To me and one lucky buyer this is heaven on earth. This property is perfect for those buyers wanting to get back to nature. Go on your own bush walks, while spotting all the wildlife our magnificent country and region has to offer... The house as mentioned has been renovated to blend in with its environment. There is polished concrete floors throughout, concrete benchtops in the kitchen. Timber feature walls throughout the home. The bathrooms the owners have used a very tasteful colour scheme. Yet there is still scope to add your own personal touches to the home. Also on offer is a large in ground swimming pool, brick double garage. There is another powered building perfect for a home-based business or man cave/gym or teenage retreat. Come out to inspect and be impressed with the peace and serenity. FEATURES • 43640m2 Lifestyle block, which slopes down from the road • Asphalt driveway • 4 bedrooms • 2 renovated bathrooms • Great sized living area with raked ceilings and fireplace • Dining room with another living area • Renovated kitchen with concrete benchtops • In ground swimming pool • Bricked double shed • Additional building, which is powered, perfect space for home office/gym or teenage retreat • Fenced • Solar panels Come out and inspect this property and see if you fall in love with it as much as the current owners did.
