At a glance - A period apartment of grand proportions- Superb design by Robert Hamilton, c1933- Large living, separate dining and sun-room- Own garage, extra car parking and storage Abode As alluring as it has always been, perhaps now more than ever, the c1933 period integrity of Robert Hamilton's 'STONEHAVEN' is reflected in this apartment's majestic proportions, open fire-places and beautiful brickwork. A living room, separate dining room, dedicated study and sun-room illustrate the style and the size of a grand two bedroom floor-plan that's completed by a central bathroom and separate powder room. Its own garage, additional car space and store room further distinguish a previously updated, classic design that easily stands the test of time and offers options for applying contemporary touches when so desired. Area North facing, with its own private entrance from quiet Stonehaven Court, enviably situated walking distance from Toorak Village, a suitably desirable address.
