Offering almost half an acre of natural bush this is the ideal property to get away from it all whilst being just a stone's throw from the bay which is renowned for boating, fishing and kayaking. Zoned low density residential, the options to construct a home are broad (STCA of course) and the gently undulating block lends itself to generous water views depending on where you choose to build. Of course, if you just want somewhere to camp, it's an ideal spot! Rough in an access and you will have the place to yourself with no close neighbours - plus - crown land directly behind you which is great for cycling and bush walks. At Ansons Bay life steps back a notch and you can unwind to the rustle of the gums and the hum of boats crossing the bay. Not many blocks come up for sale in Ansons Bay, so don't miss out and give Heidi and her team a call at Harcourts St Helens today.
