Great name, great street, great block, great price. Dont delay in securing this block which is an awesome 842m2 block which gives you plenty of room to build a decent size family home and plan to have side access and room left over for a good size shed, a great size yard and maybe a pool as well. Go for a drive to the block and walk around and imagine where you can build your new home, whether it be your first home or forever home....Bond St is calling you.
