This quaint, 2 bedroom 1950's highset home in 'original' condition, provides an exciting opportunity for someone with a passion for restoring historical homes or a first-time buyer looking for a manageable project to undergo over time. On offer for the first time since the 1970s, the property virtually untouched still retains its original kitchen, timber flooring, casement windows, high ceiling and vertical timber walls. Beneath the home is the concrete laundry trough and storage room. Sited on a generous 809m² block, there's plenty of room for outdoor activities, gardening, or future expansions. You also benefit from two separate driveways, for multiple vehicles or potential future developments (STCA). The location is ideal. A stone's throw from the vibrant and trendy Hammett Street Shopping Precinct with an array of highly sought speciality shops, butcher, general store and popular café. A short drive to Castle Hill Shopping Centre, The Strand, City, schools and recreational parks and gardens. Whether you're a first home buyer eager to enter the property market or a DIY enthusiast ready to roll up your sleeves, this property and superb location presents an exciting opportunity not to be missed.
