This large parcel of land is approximately 5.6 acres (2.27 hectares) in size and backs onto the beautiful Macquarie River. The subject land is not considered to be in a flood zone area by council zoning which places this block in the ideal setting. Zoning is R1 General Residential allowing for the provision of a variety of housing types and densities. This could be the right property at the right time with millions of dollars being spent on major green energy infrastructure over the next 5 years in the Wellington District.
