

4 Saxon Street, Belfield, NSW, 2191

Sold House

Saturday, 20 May 2023

McGrath

4 Saxon Street, Belfield, NSW, 2191

Bedrooms: 3

Bathrooms: 1

Parkings: 4

Type: House

Jessy Antaky
0294579339

Double brick family home holds a blue-ribbon address

Enviably nestled within a highly sought-after pocket of Belfield, this solid double brick home unfolds over a streamlined single-level design and offers elegantly appointed lounge/dining zones, three double bedrooms and a quality appointed kitchen and bathroom. Beautifully immersed in cascading flora on a closed-off street, the treasured residence enjoys a family-oriented setting and is located close to abundant transport, St Michaels, Rudd Park and childcare facilities.

Features:

- Interiors are anchored by a welcoming hallway and high ornate ceilings
- Desirable 'north-east to rear' orientation providing abundant natural light
- Private lounge room includes an original fireplace, separate dining area
- Extensive child-friendly backyard with established gardens and sunlight
- Granite kitchen is equipped with stainless steel appliances and storage
- Three generous bedrooms, master bedroom with a mirrored built-in robe
- Full main bathroom offers a separate bath and shower, laundry and w/c
- Air-conditioning, high ornate ceilings, timber flooring and neutral decor
- Extended driveway with abundant space to accommodate up to three cars
- Single lock-up garage with an adjoining storage room and single carport
- Walk to prestigious schools, major stations, local cafes and vibrant dining
- Generally easement free land lot, perfect site for your dream home STCA