Could this be the most Historic home in Allora? Sitting proudly on a 2023m2 corner allotment, this title was first sold back in 1863 - one of the most iconic homes in town 'Allora Cottage' is in fabulous original condition and beautifully maintained by her passionate custodians. Behind the clipped hedges, set amongst leafy established gardens - sympathetic to the era of the home - you'll pass through the rustic garden gate an old style brick path leads you to the quintessential shady, wrap-around veranda. Three bedrooms boast wonderful natural light, high ceilings and vintage charm. Overlooking the garden, there's a cosy nook for reading - or space for a small desk adjacent to the gorgeous sitting room. The country kitchen is full of charm with the original stove recess, a pantry and views of the garden. Single carport, small garden shed, unequipped bore - from which a windmill once provided water for an extensive market garden! Looking for a historic home? This stunning home would be an extremely popular Bed and Breakfast ... An amazing weekender ... or even a boutique flower farm? A short stroll to the Main Street of Allora - 'The best little town on the Downs!' A rare opportunity to acquire a unique piece of Queensland's history!
