Far from your average renovated single-fronted villa brought back from the brink, this one is set to be Mile End's hottest commodity under the city's envied glow; and thanks to its ultra chic reveal, it's got a glow all its own. From the leadlight arrival to every glazed and louvered outlook, ambitious plans have come to eye-catching fruition, creating turnkey family-sized brilliance, pairing the best of its c1910 villa past with an open plan finale and gas plumbed BBQ kitchen beneath a dizzying 6m ceiling pitch. The contrast of old and new is the success of this 3-bedroom, 2-bathroom custom redesign. Its luminous new edge builds momentum from two leading double bedrooms with original fireplaces and decorative ceiling roses, followed by countless contemporary designer additions: a luxe new bathroom, master bedroom, powder room, custom 2-pac study, and a hallway chicane that changes everything. But first, you'll feel the mood, breeze, and ambience of the new master suite the minute you step inside. Serenity that stuns under the natural glow of a glazed feature garden against louvered panes, sleek wall-to-wall robes, and an ensuite embracing circular basins, stainless fixtures, and radiant skylight. And where matte-finished floorboards end, polished concrete floors gleam and glide past the guest powder room and into the glazed and sunlit office given private carport access. Then there's 10kW of solar, 3-phase power, a 3-phase Tesla wall charger, ducted reverse cycle air conditioning, and thoughtful high and low storage throughout including low-lying storage seating against the "Illusion" living room gas fire. The stone-swathed curves of the IJF kitchen meet matchstick tiled splash backs, integrated appliances, and more custom cabinetry continuity in the form of an appliance hub, towering display shelves, and a versatile wine bar; peace of mind vision from the deep island bench to the BBQ zone and landscaped backyard is another welcome virtue. For the longest lunches alfresco beneath those exquisite, whitewashed peaks, to the sunbathed living zone from which you'll spill, featuring more glass than wall space – this spectacular home is just the beginning... All this, the best mile from town – the hippest city fringe that covets corner cafés, the Brickworks Marketplace, buses, trams, private colleges, zoning for Adelaide and Adelaide Botanic High Schools, plus a Henley Square or city pivot in a heartbeat.
