"I'm not trying to peer-pressure you into buying or anything... but why haven't you bought this yet?" It's literally got everything you've been looking for. Four bedrooms? Yes! Multiple living zones? Yes!! Good sized block? I mean, it's nearly 600sqm. Good area? You bet! Price tag? You're not going to find much cheaper. So again, why haven't you bought it yet? So let's talk about the location. The quiet, unassuming Henty Estate is the perfect place to raise a family. Walking distance to schools, parkland, public transport and shops. It's in a court location surrounded by many long-time residents. It's so central to Pakenham but out of the way of the hustle and bustle. The house features:- Four bedrooms, master with en-suite and walk-in robe;- Two living zones;- Large kitchen with 900 cooking appliances;- Heating and split system cooling;- Double car lock up garage;- Alfresco overlooking backyard. Residing in the property are some of the nicest tenants you'd likely ever meet. They would love to stay on as well. For any investors looking to buy this is a bonafide prospect.
