A truly stunning, internal transformation, has taken this executive home to the next level. Meticulously upgraded throughout, this home needs to be viewed. From the Tas Oak flooring and stairs in the entry foyer, to the kitchen with a true butlers pantry, and a master suite second to none. Add to this views to Hobart, just a couple of minutes to shopping, sports, schools, and beaches. The main living area captures views across the Derwent River to kunanyi/Mt Wellington, offering both reverse cycle air conditioning and wood heating, leading through to the dining area. Room for all the guests around the solid stone breakfast bar; converse with the chef of the house whilst they work in the kitchen, which is fitted out with top-of-the-range appliances including the Bosch Induction hob with integrated ventilation system, touch sensor tap, a large butlers pantry with its Belfast sink, microwave, wall oven, fridge, integrated dishwasher, large walk-in pantry and washing machine. Beside the kitchen there is a built-in bar with a 2-door wine fridge, cool the bubbles, to serve your guests their drink of choice, and have your favourite red at the perfect temperature. Sliding doors lead to the undercover entertainment area. The upgraded bathroom is stunning with its retro wallpaper, free-standing bath, large shower bay, and Bluetooth mirror, also added to this is a separate powder room. All bedrooms have built-in robes, bedroom 5 would make a great home office. The piece de resistance to this internal transformation would be the master suite, featuring imported Swedish wallpaper, Spanish tiles, a solid stone bath, a stunning chandelier, and a walk-in robe you need to see. A welcoming Tas Oak, entry foyer leads to either the large second living room, a massive downstairs bedroom with a full wall of built-in robes, access to undercover parking, and secondary laundry and WC. This property is an eclectic mix between contemporary and retro, not only are there some big 'WOW' moments, but the attention to the finer details is unparalleled. N.B.
