46 Lancefield Circuit, Eynesbury, is a spacious and modern house with several attractive features. It offers three bedrooms, study, two bathrooms and a two-car garage. Additionally, there is a study located at the front of the property, providing a convenient workspace. One of the highlights of this property is its outdoor area, which includes an alfresco undercover area with café blinds. This creates a versatile space that can be enjoyed year-round. Inside, the house offers two separate living areas, providing ample space for relaxation and entertainment. The white plantation shutters throughout the house add a touch of elegance and provide privacy. The kitchen is equipped with a generous-sized island bench, offering plenty of workspace for cooking and meal preparation. The master bedroom, located at the back of the house, features a large walk-in robe and an ensuite bathroom, providing a private and comfortable retreat. The property sits on a 546m² land, providing a decent-sized yard for outdoor activities. Overall, this property offers a combination of functionality, style, and outdoor living, making it an appealing place to call home.
