A rare opportunity to own the original post office and post masters residence. Nestled in the picturesque Glen Valley. The post masters house boasts two cozy bedrooms. With most of the hard work already completed. Recent upgrades include re-stumping, full insulation, with new wiring and more. Leaving you a blank canvas to add your personal finishing touches and transform this house into the home of your dreams. A delightful two-bedroom self-contained cottage sits adjacent to the main house, providing the perfect private space for guests or extended family. A separate cabin made out of timber slabs with stained glass windows sits lined with tree ferns on one side. When you want to get together, gather in the large mud brick B.B.Q area. This rustic gem includes two large sheds. They both have two car spacers and enclosed workshops. There are 3 more small sheds. The region is steeped in history and natural beauty. The property is blessed with a leased creek frontage, ensuring you have a peaceful and picturesque setting right on your doorstep. It is a short drive to the iconic Big river, a renowned trout area. Whether you enjoy fishing, hiking, going to the snow or simply immersing yourself in the beauty of the outdoors. Don't miss your chance to make this rustic retreat your very own. Contact us today to arrange a viewing and unlock the endless potential for both comfortable living or investment potential of this Glen Valley gem.
