$900,000

This property has dual income potential. With an approved flat downstairs and a 3 bedroom residence upstairs, separately metered for power this house would suit the extended family or investor. In original condition the tiles are as new. With a filtered water view from upstairs and double brick downstairs this home has stood the test of time and will last for many more years. In need of modernization but still comfortably livable as is, this house is different from most. Phone for a private inspection.
