Ultra-modern in presentation, luxurious in character and a great first home, downsizing option or investment, it's not so much a question of whether you should buy this brand-new executive townhouse but if you can afford to let this glamorous abode fall into someone else's hands? Built with exceptional quality, dressed with superior on-trend finishes and hallmarked by its intelligent two-storey footprint, those who opt to call this place "home" will also delight in the low-maintenance lifestyle appeal of this elite executive residence. Stunning herringbone parquet floors greet your entry into the fashionable interior, enhanced with square-set high ceilings and maximum use of light and space. A bright and beautiful study area is ideal for the home-based professional or studious pupil, while a chic open-plan living domain with a deluxe kitchen and direct access to the private low-maintenance courtyard is every bit the statement of style. High-end style and luxury extends to the master bedroom ensuite and main family bathroom, both of which are tiled from floor to ceiling and zoned upstairs with all three bedrooms. In the case of the main bathroom, its divine soaker bath offers that extra touch of luxury. Complete with split-system heating/cooling, European laundry, guest powder room downstairs and a remote single garage with rear access into the courtyard, embark on an exciting new chapter moments from the No.86 tram, Preston High School zone, parks, Northland Shopping Centre, Preston Market and High Street bars, cafes and restaurants.
