The landmark Rising Sun building has made its transition from classical hotel style to contemporary home spaces with exceptional success – a fact that’s brilliantly illustrated by this dynamic, inviting dual level townhouse. Downstairs living and dining areas that flow to a terrace of pleasing, paved privacy is complemented by a kitchen where stone surfaces perform with first class functionality. Upstairs, two double bedrooms accommodate in complete comfort. City sights and a sparkling central bathroom add to the appeal of these ideal proportions, further enhanced by security, garage parking and convenient proximity to West Footscray station & Seddon Village. A sensational first home, a fabulous investment in an address where the past tells countless stories, the present ensures enjoyment and the future provides great ongoing rewards.
