5 Heysen Court is the kind of home that is very deceptive from the street. Once through the front door you'll see immediately that the photos do not do the size of the room's justice. With three bedrooms, 2 living areas, open kitchen, huge bathroom suitable for assisted access and separate laundry the core features of the home will suit you not only to live in comfortably now, but also the opportunity to continue to evolve the property to benefit your ideal lifestyle. With Tolosa Street only a short stroll away with consistent public buses running to and from, a childcare centre, primary school and high school a stone's throw away it makes it a perfect location to ensure you and your family have no means to worry for transport and services. Being completely level, of brick construction, with plenty of off street parking, neat gardens and storage from an external garage, be it either in your later years, just starting out or with a small family in tow, the expansive rooms will weather you for many years to come.
