Spacious, gracious and set in the best street in Robertson overlooking this prestigious country village - 5 May Street enjoys breathtaking, elevated views across the Southern Highlands. North facing and sun drenched, this Sandstock brick-built house is tucked away behind a private hedged front garden with a pretty rose lined pathway. Crossing the deep timber verandah, the house opens to reveal a stunning cathedral ceiling spanning the well-appointed granite topped kitchen, spacious dining and living areas. A perfectly polished, glossy, solid hard wood floor adds a luxurious aesthetic. This is the light filled epicentre of a house built for entertaining, French doors open to a raised verandah with plenty of room for alfresco dining and complete with mesmerizing vista over the one acre of manicured mature garden. With four to five good-sized bedrooms this is a property well suited to an extended family with children and grandparents. The primary bedroom/parents retreat has a large walk-in wardrobe, ensuite, plus beautiful sunroom capturing all the light. There is a further family sized bathroom and powder room. The garden is blossoms with mature trees, a small orchard with apple, hazelnut, plums and nectarines; well established hydrangeas, azaleas, ferns. In spring the grounds are alive with hundreds of tulips and jonquils. This is a prized garden. There is also a large barn in the grounds and vegetable garden. This is a property that goes on giving with a double garage and workshop, plus an additional spacious loft above perfect as a rumpus room for the kids. Internal access from the garage is via a mud room and laundry ensuring the house connects seamlessly. The versatility of all the spaces ensure this is an exciting opportunity lending itself to art, business or gardening pleasure. There is plenty of potential to extend accommodation pending STCA. Situated within the artistic and creative community of Robertson with its unique and fabled mix of art galleries and artisanal food stores, 5 May Street is within 10-minute walking distance to town for a morning baguette and coffee. It is 20 minutes from the sought-after town of Bowral and well-placed for all those amenities, including schools, excellent public and private hospital, comprehensive health care, fast train to Sydney and a wide range of excellent services.
