

5 Rosella Street, Murrurundi, NSW 2338

Residential Land For Sale

Saturday, 4 May 2024

5 Rosella Street, Murrurundi, NSW 2338

Area: 1476 m2

Type: Residential Land

Liz Morris
0257406060

$185,000

Nestled in the serene, rolling hills of Murrurundi, the dream of building your new home unfolds amidst landscapes that inspire tranquility and a deep connection with nature. This quaint town, rich in beauty and history, offers an idyllic backdrop for crafting a residence that's not just a dwelling but a haven. Surrounded by the breathtaking views of the Upper Hunter, each day in your new home promises a unique blend of peace, privacy, and the vibrant tapestry of the Australian countryside. Here, where the horizon stretches infinitely and the skies paint new masterpieces daily, your life is poised to blend seamlessly with the natural world, creating a living experience that is as fulfilling as it is beautiful. This vacant 1,476sqm site is set within a newly established residential estate with quality modern style homes. Yet the area has nevertheless retained its scenic serenity and without a doubt will provide you with the country escape you've been dreaming of. Town water, electricity, sewerage systems, and phone connections are easily accessible and you're 500m from Wilson Memorial Park, perfect to tire out the kids with an afternoon of play or watch the local footy club play a game or two. Furthermore, "Darcy and the Fox" emerges as another gem in Murrurundi's vibrant creative scene, presenting a harmonious mix of artistry, craftwork, and design. This select venue shines a spotlight on the expertise of local craftspeople, offering them a stage for their creative output. It captures the town's commitment to uplifting and cherishing the artistic community. These venues collectively not only deepen the cultural texture of Murrurundi but also reinforce its appeal as a haven for creatives seeking muse or a tranquil haven to cultivate their artistic projects.